

Just to inform you that our one month translation workshop with the three Mangyan translation teams finished Friday afternoon. Most of the translators and the consultants who came to help out have now left. Only Raquel and I and a remnant remain here in Calapan.

We are grateful to our loving Father for the health He gave us all and for safe travels. Once again we had a very enjoyable time working with great brothers and sisters in our Lord. The facilities and food was as simple as can be, but the company was fantastic. It was also a very productive time.

Oriental Taubuid was able to finish:
Amos, Psalms 68 and 82, Job 1-4, and a number of other chapters of various books.

Occidental Taubuid was able to finish:
Job, Psalms 25-40, and 4 chapters of Amos.

Hanunuu was able to finish:
Proverbs 16-31 and Psalms 100-115.
To God all praise and glory.

What now? This Saturday Lenie has already gotten back to revising the Cebuano translation, Raquel the Tagalog translation, and I have been working on trying to finish my check of Acts for a language group in India.

For the next month we will stay here at the OMF guest home in Calapan and continue to work on revising the Tagalog and Cebuano translations. I'll work with Raquel and her Tagalog team in the morning and with Lenie and her Cebuano team in the afternoon. Thanks for your prayers.

Concerning Shoni, she started this week teaching first grade at a public school in Maryland and finds it extremely challenging, and lonely, not knowing very many people in that area of the U.S. I'm sure she too would appreciate your prayers.
